

SOCIETY FOR HUMAN WELFARE & EMPOWERMENT

Inclusion • Dignity • Empowerment

SHWE's vision is for a society where every individual, including those with disabilities, experiences inclusion, empowerment, and active participation as fundamental values of life.

Through its committed work in physical rehabilitation and advocacy for the inclusion of people with disabilities, SHWE is fostering a society where individuals of all abilities can live with dignity and actively contribute to nation-building.

ABOUT US

The Society for Human Welfare and Empowerment (SHWE) is a non-profit organization founded in July 2014 and registered on March 23, 2015, under the Societies Registration Act, 1860. SHWE empowers underprivileged individuals — especially those with disabilities — by providing free prosthetic limbs, orthotics, and mobility aids, helping them overcome barriers and live with dignity and independence.

MISSION

SHWE strives to build a noble and humane ecosystem that ensures equal opportunities and holistic development for underprivileged individuals, especially persons with disabilities, through inclusive, dignified, and empowering interventions.
